Description

The 2027 Diamond C PX210 is a pintle-hitch deckover built for fleets and municipalities that run pintle hitches rather than balls. The 60,000-lb pintle eye takes the shock loading that comes with rough sites and heavy equipment, and the deckover design puts a full 102" of usable width over the wheels. Underneath is Diamond C’s own Engineered Beam frame.

• 25,000-lb GVWR with (2) 10,000-lb Lippert axles and electric drum brakes with ABS
• 16" Engineered Beam 2.0 low-profile main frame with Slipper Roller HD suspension
• 3" I-beam crossmembers on 16" centers with formed gussets

• 16" engineered tongue with a 60,000-lb pintle eye
• 102" wide deck in 2" treated lumber, installed after painting
• 60" dovetail with 2" x 2" x 1/8" angle cleats and 96" rear slide-in ramps
• Dual 20,000-lb Simol 2-speed drop-leg jacks
• 235/80R16 14-ply radials, dually, on 8-hole black wheels
• Waterproof rubber-mounted all-LED lighting
• DM Difference Maker powder coat system

This unit also includes:

• Hydraulic jacks
• Aluminum outer wheels
• Spare tire
