The Diamond C FMAX212 gooseneck trailer is a top-tier heavy-duty solution built for professionals who demand strength, performance, and long-term reliability. With a GVWR of up to 25,900 lbs and tandem 12K dual-wheel axles, the FMAX212 is engineered to handle serious payloads like heavy equipment, vehicles, and hotshot freight with confidence. Its patented engineered I-beam frame delivers an exceptional strength-to-weight ratio, while the low-profile deck design improves loading angles and overall usability. Featuring a 102" wide deck, multiple length options up to 44 feet, and versatile loading configurations such as the Max ramps, it adapts to a wide range of hauling needs. Built with premium components, advanced suspension options, and Diamond C's signature craftsmanship, the FMAX212 offers superior towing stability, durability, and efficiency—making it a trusted choice for contractors, fleets, and high-demand hauling operations.
