Description

The 20’ Greenfield utility trailer with a 10,000 lb. GVWR and split rear gate is a good, all-around trailer built for folks who need something dependable for everyday hauling. Whether you’re moving mowers, side-by-sides, building materials, or small equipment, that 20-foot deck gives you plenty of room to work with without being too much trailer to handle. The split rear gate is a handy feature, making it easier to load different types of equipment without dealing with one big, heavy gate every time. Built in Pennsylvania, Greenfield trailers are known for solid craftsmanship and durability, so you know it’s made to hold up to real use. It’s got a sturdy frame, pulls nice and steady behind the truck, and is the kind of trailer that fits right into farm work, jobsite use, or just getting things done around the property.
