The Aluma WB18H-TA-EL is built to give you a sense of capability the moment you see it—strong, dependable, and ready to handle more while feeling surprisingly easy to manage. Its all-aluminum construction creates a natural balance of durability and lightness, so as you imagine towing it, you can almost feel the smooth, controlled response behind your vehicle.

With its wider bed and thoughtful layout, loading becomes a more open, confident experience—like everything has the space it needs to settle in securely. The electric lift feature gently shifts effort into simplicity, allowing you to feel the difference as tasks become quicker and more intuitive.

And once you're on the road, there's a steady reassurance that stays with you—because the WB18H-TA-EL is designed to support you at every step. It transforms hauling from something you have to manage into something that simply works, freeing you to focus on the bigger picture ahead.
