Description

This 2026 Formula Trailers 24 ft Conquest enclosed car hauler is built for serious car enthusiasts who need extra length and thoughtful features in their hauler. A V-nose design improves aerodynamics and adds usable interior space up front, and the 7 ft interior height keeps things comfortable when working around your vehicle inside. A side escape door gives you a walk-in option separate from the main spring-assist ramp door, which is especially useful when the trailer is loaded and you need quick access. Recessed floor-mounted E-track provides flush, out-of-the-way tie-down points that won't catch on tires or equipment, and 5,200 lb torsion axles deliver a smoother, more stable ride than leaf-spring suspension. Electric brakes and radial tires round out the running gear, while a steel frame with battle-coat protection resists rust and corrosion over the trailer's lifespan. Construction details include 3/8 in walls and a 3/4 in floor for genuine durability, plus .080 polycore sides for a smooth, easy-to-clean exterior finish. A rear spoiler with integrated LED loading lights and an RV-style locking side door complete a well-thought-out package. Finished in white, this Formula Trailers Conquest is ready to haul your vehicle in style.
