Imagine arriving at every destination knowing your equipment is protected, organized, and ready to perform. The Formula K-DX7212-030 is designed to give you that feeling of confidence from the moment you hook up and head out. Its aerodynamic V-nose creates additional storage space while promoting smoother towing, and its rugged steel construction ensures reliability trip after trip. As you use it, you'll appreciate how easily it adapts to your needs, helping every hauling task feel more efficient, more secure, and more professional.

Key features include a 3,500-lb single axle, 78-inch interior height, rear ramp door with spring assist, 36-inch flush-lock side door, engineered wood flooring, full LED lighting, and a semi-screwless aluminum exterior that combines durability with a clean, modern appearance.
