Description

This 2027 Trailex CT-8454 aluminum car hauler is built for enthusiasts who want a lightweight, corrosion-resistant trailer without sacrificing capability. An all-aluminum deck and frame keep curb weight low relative to capacity, which means less strain on your tow vehicle and better fuel economy compared to a steel equivalent. The 84 in wide deck comfortably fits most cars and trucks, and an 8-degree load angle combined with 11 ft aluminum ramps makes loading low-clearance vehicles straightforward without scraping. Low-profile fender boxes maximize usable deck width, and both a tire rack and a spare tire mount keep a backup wheel secure and out of the way. Aluminum wheels match the trailer's material theme and resist corrosion, while torsion suspension delivers a smoother, more stable tow than leaf-spring alternatives. Electric brakes provide confident stopping power, and a built-in tool box keeps straps, chains, and tools organized and protected from the weather. LED lighting completes the package for safe, visible towing. This Trailex CT-8454 is a premium option for buyers who want the durability and light weight of aluminum construction.
