Description

Made in the USA
The MZ Magnum Zero-Turn Riding Lawn Mower is built in the USA alongside Bad Boy's larger commercial models at its Arkansas headquarters. Constructed from quality Bad Boy steel, it delivers professional quality, zero-turn efficiency, a comfortable ride, power, and performance at an affordable price for residential lawns.

Commercial Strength for Residential Lawns
Unlike many mowers in this price range that are stamped from flimsy steel and bolted together, the MZ Magnum features a 2? x 2? all-steel rail frame, a lower center of gravity, industry-leading 3/8? steel front forks, and an all-new solid steel, all-welded sloped deck. The deck is made from 3/16 inch or 7-gauge steel with reinforced edges and additional ¼” side plates. Choose the 48” or 54” deck, both with a baffling system that maximizes airflow for greater grass lift and a cleaner cut.

Comfort, Control, and Convenience
The cushioned seat adjusts front to back, while the steering dampening system provides tighter, smoother steering with improved response and maneuverability. The left- or right-side foot pedal and Deck Dial make mowing-height adjustments simple. The electric blade start, throttle, and engine start are conveniently located at your fingertips.

High-Caliber Value for Homeowners
Built to last, the MZ Magnum is powered by Bad Boy's Dual Hydro-Gear ZT-2200 Series Integrated Drive Systems and features a large 6-gallon fuel capacity. The flip-up floorboard provides easy access to serviceable parts and simplifies cleanup, while the no-slip rubber mat adds convenience.
