Description

BLADE GUIDE ASSY POLY 24?
The Western 62595 Blade Guide Assembly, Poly 24?, is designed to enhance the visibility and positioning of your Western snow plow’s blade. These 24-inch poly guides are typically mounted on the outer edges of the plow blade, acting as visual indicators of the blade’s width and position, especially in low-visibility conditions.
The bright poly material provides a clear visual reference, helping the operator to accurately position the blade and avoid obstacles. This is particularly useful during nighttime plowing or in heavy snowfall.
This assembly is built to withstand the harsh conditions of winter, and the poly material is resistant to impacts and abrasion. It is compatible with a range of Western plow models (please verify your specific plow model for compatibility). Installing the Western 62595 Blade Guide Assembly improves the accuracy and safety of your plowing operations.
